Seminar objective

New sensitivities and sensibilities can be developed by increasing our sense of social responsibility and that through practical experience. The result is a better understanding of processes in society as a whole. You'll see your day-to-day management behaviour from a new perspective. Social intelligence is thereby increased and everyday situations seen in a new light.

Seminar content

In this seminar you will have the opportunity to have some completely new experiences. You will work in social institutions for one day.

Examples:

- Refugee aid
- Child and youth welfare
- Disability care
- Addiction and drug help

Half of the seminar fee is made available to the social institution.

Target audience

The "Social Responsibility" seminar is aimed at all those who are socially committed and want to broaden their perspective.
